The petition recites that Carroll is a plate printer in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and was chairman of the executive committee and a member of the legislative committee of the union. The defendants named beside Mr. Deviny, the president of the union, are James H. Beck, Alfred H. Mills, Charlton B. Rout, Christopher Leimkuhl, and Patrick J. Ryan. They are accused of sending written communication to Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor; John H. Ferguson, president of the Maryland State and District of Columbia Federation of Labor; and Jackson H. Ralston, attorney for the federation, containing "false, scandalous, malicious and defamatory words" to the effect that Carroll had sought to discredit the union and the committee thereof, and that he had spent funds of the union without informing the other members of the committee.

Carroll's attorneys are Charles W. Darr, Julius I. Poyner, and Lawrence Koelbeberger.
